Good News

Canada will have an appointment with prosperity if its crop this year is as good as the usually reliable Winnipeg Free Press survey says it may be. It seems agreed that the west will enjoy the best crop it has had since 1932, with the total wheat yield being about 380,000.000 mil-into bushels.

The big improvement is in Saskatchewan. The drouth area, which has been on the edge of becoming the dust bowl of the west, now knows that its lands still form part of the fertile prairies. Almost all the crop that will come from the southern part of that province will be a clear gain over the lean yields of the drouth years.

Already the brave settlers who have withstood adversity are planning to only a stood adversity are planning to enjoy a stood adversity are planning to enjoy a winter free from the gnawing anxiety of the past few years. Travellers there say that sales are brisk due to the mood of tempered optimism occasioned by the growing crop.

Of course, no westerner need be told that the hazards of bringing in the crop have not all been surmounted. But at least the future may be faced in the confident hope that the progress thus far made will not be lost in the days that are ahead.

National Housing Act

Edmonton stands fourth, among all Edmonton stands fourth, among an the cities in Canada, in its use of loans made under authority of the National Housing Act. Its total of 1,692 loans has been bettered only by Toronto, Montreal been bettered only by Toronto, Montreal and Vancouver.

The acting minister of finance, Hon.

J. L. Ilsley, states that a record number of loans was made in the dominion in July, the figure being the highest for any month the figure being the highest for any month since the act came into operation. In fact, the 866 loans in July were 62 per cent higher than for the same month last

What is most encouraging is that the majority of these loans are being made to home owners in the smaller incomes bracket. Thirty-one per cent of the loans went to families with an income which did not enable them to build a home costing more than $2.500, and almost ninety per cent were for less than $4.000. The Housies Act under which the federal Plousies Act under which the federal ing more than $2,000. The Housing Act, under which the federal government makes ninety per cent of the loan, payable back in small monthly installments, is obviously designed to aid the modest taxpayer to improve his home under the best terms yet offered in the long history of Canada.

Well Worth Watching

Mr. Roosevelt has not waited till 1940

Weil Worth Watching

Mr. Roosevelt has not waited till 1940 to define the issue of the next presidential election. He did it before the Young Democrats' national convention this week when he told them he would oppose any nomine from his party who is opposed to the New Deal. He does not want to seek when he told them he would oppose any nomine from his party who is opposed to the New Deal. He does not want to seek when he had he want to seek the seek of the president was not making a petular, and the seek of the president was not making a petular, and the seek of the president was not making a petular, and the seek of the president was not making a petular, and the seek of the president was not making a petular, and the seek of the president was not making a petular publicans who bots the impulse for reform until at last he had to oppose Taft in a general election. He knows how the radicant idealism of Wilson was swallowed up in the bleak theight of the Harding-Coolidge era when the administration pursued a policy of masterly inactivity. He knows better than anyone else that the same thing will happen to his record of reform a stone to the content of the United States.

There is only one issue before the elections. It is whether the heritage of reform is to be preserved and enriched, or whether it is to be gobbied up by reaction.

Canada has a stake in the outcome of that content. At present the fate of the New Deal and dross. The enemies of reform are certain to dramatize the defects of the New Deal in order to destroy its achievements. A friend of progress, however, may be able in order to destroy its achievements. A friend of progress, however, may be able to consolidate its triumphs in such a way to consolidate its triumphs in such a way that the effect of American legislation will at once open a new chapter in the po-litical history of Canada. Whether Mr. Roosevelt is a third-term candidate or not, he has now made it clema-the wants a man to represent his ideas for the Democratic party. He has broken so many precedents already that he is cer-tain to campaign in the next election, whether he runs or not, to see that his whether he rideals prevail.

A Troubled Mussolini

A Troubled Mussolini

As junior partner in the Berlin-Rome axis, il Duce has a hard time seeing why he should be involved in the Dannig crisis. After all, even if Hitler does succeed in making Poland how to his will and annexes Danzig, Italy will not be one cent richer or one inch of soil bigger because of Germany's victory. He has everything to lose and nothing to gain over Danzig. So he very wisely tells Hitler, according to report, to watch his step. Will the dictators agree to disagree? If they do, the much proclaimed identity of interest between them is ended and the unity of the axis strained, if not actually shattered. Will Hitler and Mussolini quarrelower Danzig? If they do, the world may breathe easily, for the dark clouds will be streaked with flooded light. What is more likely to happen is this. Mussolini has simply sent up a trial balcon to find out how much in earnest Hitler is about Danzig. He is not yet ready to make a cardinal issue over it. But, if the force of the democracies arrayed against Germany becomes so strong that the Reich shows signs of hostiancy, Mussolini has conciliator by urging Germany to bow to the inevitable and agree to a negotiated settlement in which Polandi's rights are fully protected. If the democratic bloe is not strong enough to caution Germany, Il Duce will remain an rights are fully protected. If the democratic bloc is not strong enough to caution Germany, Il Duce will remain an obedient junior partner and have the courage of Hitler's convictions.

In any event, Mussolini is certain to be disappointed, no matter what Hitler does over Danzig. In the long run, but not on this issue in all likelihood, these pinpricks and irritants may at last drive him to be something else than a carbon-copy of Hitler.

Seventy years ago today (on Aug. 12, 1869) constitutional history was made in the Dominion of Canada when the federal government, for the first time, exercised its power of disallowance of statute passed by a provincial legislature. The act was one passed at Halifax and it was vetoed because the British North America Act gave control of penitentiaries to the Dominion.

Act gave control of penitentiaries to the Do-minition.

Prior to Confederation the penitentiaries, like the common jails, were administered by the local governments and Halifax had a peniten-tiary of some age and considerable importance. In the penitentiary of the Maritime province established at Derchester, New Brunawick.

The disallowance created much indignation in Nova Scotla, already seething with discontent over the union, but eventually the fever died over the union, but eventually the fever died able. An English comedian, who prided himself upon his ability to speak the Scottish dislect like a native, was invited to a dinner party by an Edinburgh man. During the evening the comedian told some stories in his best Scots secent and then, thinking to spring a surptile on the party, he said to his heat: "What part of Scotland would you say I come from?"

The host looked dubious. "Pensance?" he saked.

Before the 1914-18 war, owner managed firms based their prices on the age old merchandising principle of permanent trade by mutua; agreement, or ability to buy according to the supplies available and too demand for them.

During and for ten years following the war, purchasing power from the production of seports practically

Mrs. Leland's

A Bulletin Short Story Complete on This Page Every Saturday By Fannie Hurst

ONSIDERING my widely assorted memories of Mrs. Leland's Boarding House. I wonder why I cannot choose to lead off with Miss Haswell.

Perhaps because the acid impressions of this memory-etching, bit deeply into my adolescence.

It would seem more properly sequential to first introduce Mrs. Leland, herself. I shall, but not at this time.

My outstanding recollection of her is her stomach. It was very lerge and her ill-made corset accentuated an angle not true to anatomy. It gave the front of Mrs. Leland the look of a chicken breast.

bitter rivals. South Side, the third club in the gala, finishe in that position.

It was a nip and tuck affair between the West and East End clubs. West End larged behind by one point and only two races remained on the program. With sudden bursts of specif the West Enders Hashed to the front in both the ladies' and men's relay races and picked up 13 points while the East Enders scored but three points. This sparking finish gave West End a point total of 110. East End had 101 points and South Side only 34.
